The Best of Puglia Tour

Seven days visiting all the highlights of Puglia; experience the lifestyle, history and cuisine of this fascinating region.

Accommodation

In Puglia we stay in the charming town of Locorotondo. The historic centre is lined with elegant old buildings, evocative lanes amongst the whitewashed buildings, and piazzas with the traditional ‘passeggiata’ in full swing each evening.

You stay in what is known as a ‘scattered hotel’, this is a new concept that is becoming very popular in some Italian historical centres. Our accommodation is provided by ‘Sotto Le Cummerse’.

With a central reception (& free wifi, rooms serviced daily, etc.), the rooms are in historic buildings. The rooms are tastefully presented, spacious, with high vaulted ceilings and the ubiquitous limestone paving adding to the sense of history.

For this week, you live amongst it.

Staying in the historic centre of town also aligns with our responsible tourism charter, being supportive of local and historic initiatives.

Here you can feel immersed in the local lifestyle, and it is easy to wander out in the evening for dinner and gelati.

By the end of the week, you’ll be greeting your neighbours with a ‘buongiorno’ every morning!

OUR TOUR LEADERS

Antonella: I am from Puglia and I have spent the last 15 years in the travel industry. I am a food lover and I like sharing with my guests my first hand knowledge of the local culture, people, food, habits and traditions. My family has passed on to me the Puglia way of living and I proudly preserve these precious values – making our wine, extra virgin olive oil and growing much of our food.

Andy: I am originally from the UK but bought my house here in 2006. I am immersed in Italian culture and life I have a BA in Italian and an MA in Art History. My passions are Renaissance and Baroque art and architecture and Italian wine and food. My particular interests are Caravaggio and Bernini, Salice Salentino and swordfish.

Anita: Raised in Bari, Puglia, I have a passion for sharing the best of this region with others. From my deep cultural knowledge and understanding of what is the essence of Puglia, I can provide to you an insight into both the land and the people that keep alive the traditions.

Richie: I am originally from the US but have lived in Italy for the last ten years. I have a degree in Art History and am a food & wine enthusiast who enjoys transmitting my love for the local culture to curious visitors. It’s my mission to give something special to guests through a blend of learning, fun, spontaneity, and shared quality memories.

Roberta: From Sicily, in the very south of Italy, I then moved to Rome. To me, showing the beauties of this country to people from all over the world not only is a job, but also the best way I have to give something back to my country. I like to transmit the quintessence of Italian culture, because you can’t understand Italy without passing through real people’s way of living.

Malcolm: I first came to Italy about 20 years ago while working as a winemaker. With a passion for the gastronomy and the history of Italy, leading tours around regional areas allows me to share the best of Italy. Having lived in Sicily, Puglia, Rome and Milan, I have a good understanding of Italy and Italian culture from the north to the south.

About Us

Italy With Pleasure emerged from a marriage of ideas (the traditional marriage came later). To explain, we need to wind the clock back to the time when the founders of the company, Antonella and Malcolm, were embarking on what became Italy With Pleasure.

Malcolm was working as a winemaker in Puglia, southern Italy. Discovering new flavours, but more significantly the depth of history and culture all around. Nearby was Antonella, studying for a masters in literature. Together we embarked on an exploration of firstly Puglia, where we were living, and later further afield around the many and varied regions of Italy. Everywhere we went we would seek out the local cuisine, traditions tied to the land, places off the beaten track. We’d always try to find the essence of what made each place unique: maybe it was a local artisan, maybe it was part of an ancient Roman road, it could be the particular way they make their pasta shapes in their village.

And what were our own travels in Italy are now the tours that we offer to you - Italy With Pleasure was founded specifically for this purpose. We collaborate with a group of like-minded individuals who are our Tour Leaders - Andy and Anita, Richie and Roberta - who will lead your group for the week and provide insights into this land. Our guiding philosophy in designing the tour itineraries is to do so with the care we would in planning a personal trip with a close friend. We’ve maintained the spirit of those early days, almost 20 years ago now, back when we were driving around Italy with hands stained from the intense primitivo wine being made back in the winery.

We invite you to come and uncover some of these special places for yourselves.

With pleasure, of course.

The Early Days
The Best of Puglia Tour – Itinerary

Day 1 – Buongiorno Puglia!

We meet in Bari at 2 p.m. Bari is the main city of Puglia, and from here we start our discovery of the region. Our first stop is Ostuni, known as “la città bianca” (the white town). Ostuni is a cluster of whitewashed buildings perched on a hilltop overlooking the coast. Walking through the narrow streets of Ostuni is like being in a forgotten time, evocative and ancient, looking out over an expanse of olive trees. We advise keeping your camera at the ready!

This part of Puglia is dotted with charming towns such as Locorotondo. The historic centres of these towns are lined with elegant old buildings, evocative lanes amongst the whitewashed buildings, and piazzas with the traditional ‘passeggiata’ in full swing each evening. Over the next few days you’ll have plenty of time to explore Locorotondo at your own pace.

Tonight we dine together, having our first introduction to the cuisine of Puglia. Throughout the week meals are in restaurants designed to showcase the region’s cuisine, with the specific venues all carefully selected by us. This is in order to provide a variety of food styles over the duration of the tour.

Meals: Dinner (4 courses including wine)

Day 2 – Into The Fairytale

We depart for our first stop, Alberobello.

The picturesque Alberobello, a UNESCO World Heritage site, is a unique town with streets lined with ‘trulli’. In fact it is known in Italy as the “Capital of trulli”. Trulli are small stone houses with a distinctive conical roof, built 300-400 years ago. By walking along its narrow streets, you will be fascinated by the magical and fairytale atmosphere of this place. We explore this town together, and learn about why and how these dwellings were built, and about the cryptic symbols painted on the roof-cones. Before lunch you have some free time to browse the shops of Alberobello and to wander around.

We then move on to Polignano a Mare on the coast nearby, an impressive town clinging to a promontory suspended above the Adriatic’s turquoise waters.

With a history spanning back to the 4th century BC as a Greek settlement, Polignano a Mare is a charming town centred around the Piazza Vittorio Emanuele. The town was on the ancient Roman Trajan’s Way, and you can still see the remains of this route. Polignano a Mare encircles a pebble beach, nestled in a cove between rocky cliffs. The beach is suitable for swimming.

Our lunch in Polignano a Mare is focused on seafood, with the local produce from the Adriatic Sea being a key part of the cuisine here.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch (3 courses including wine)

Day 3 – The Marvels of Elegant Baroque

Today we travel to Lecce, a city that flourished in the 17th century when extravagant and elegant baroque buildings were built by the ruling classes. The baroque style features ornate decorations covering the facades of churches and palaces.

We take a private tour around Lecce with a local expert guide to have the key sights explained to us. The baroque style here is distinct from that in other parts of Italy, both stylistically and in the use of the beige coloured local stone.

As well as the architectural and historical features, Lecce is an elegant town in which to indulge in more modern pleasures. There are many interesting boutiques and cafes, and the piazzas are full of life in this important southern Italian centre.
After some free time in central Lecce we have lunch in a local restaurant, where we dine on the food specific to this part of Puglia, called ‘the Salento’.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch (3 courses including wine)

Day 4 – A Step Back In Time

This morning we travel to the town of Matera in the neighbouring Basilicata region. Visiting Matera, a UNESCO World Heritage site, is like a step back in time. In fact this is one of the oldest continually inhabited settlements in the world. The oldest cave dwellings go back to the Bronze Age.

The town consists of houses carved out of the rock face along the side of a steep ravine. We meet with a local guide here who gives us an interesting insight into life in Matera, both now and in the past. In fact his grandparents lived in these caves.

We visit the ‘sassi’ cave area, and enter one of the typical houses built into the rock, showing the difficult existence in these conditions.

We also visit a cave church hewn out of the rock, featuring Byzantine frescoes and with interesting histories as their usage has evolved and adapted to the conditions over the years.

Matera was used for the filming of Mel Gibson’s “The Passion of the Christ” - you’ll see why it is so easy to imagine Matera as being completely removed from the modern age.

Since we are in the Basilicata region, our lunch here focuses on the specialties from this inland region.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch (4 courses including wine)
Day 5 - A Visit to Castel del Monte

Today we travel to Castel del Monte, a UNESCO World Heritage site. Literally meaning ‘castle on the hill’, this is a very fascinating building. The castle was built by the emperor Frederick II in the thirteenth century. The fascinating thing about this building is the innovative design. The castle is built to an octagonal pattern, with octagonal towers on each corner, and is imbued with symbolic significance relating to mathematical and astronomical phenomena.

We continue on to Trani, which has long been an important centre with its natural harbour, a coastal town with a fishing village feel. Many people visit Trani to see the stunning Romanesque cathedral perched right on the waterfront. We see where the Knights Templar would depart to the east from, originally the final point for missions to leave these shores. We look around the old Jewish quarter, as Trani has long been significant for the Jewish population.

Today the harbour in Trani is a fishing port ringed by waterfront restaurants. Each morning the fishermen sell their fresh fish from the pier where they dock. Lunch is a seafood meal, in a seaside restaurant making the most of this fresh catch.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch (4 courses including wine)

Day 6 – Food Glorious Food

This morning we visit a family run winery, focussed on making quality wines from the traditional varieties that are grown in this area such as fiano minutolo and susumaniello. The winemaker takes us through the vineyard, and we taste a range of wines. Some of these wine varieties were so rare that they were not made commercially up until a few years ago.

Following the winery we continue on to the nearby town of Locorotondo, voted as one of the “Borghi più belli d'Italia” (one of the most beautiful villages of Italy). The town is perched on a hilltop overlooking the Valle d’Itria, a broad fertile valley. The historic part of town - the centro storico - is circular with little lanes lined with historic buildings, including some impressive baroque details. As today is the weekly market day in Locorotondo, we get to see how the locals do their shopping – rows and rows of stalls with cheese, seasonal fruit, vegetables, and other fresh produce.

In the afternoon we visit a ‘masseria’. A masseria is a historic farm centre, originally with all the estate’s workers living in the fortified buildings. Nowadays some of these estates are still agricultural enterprises, while others have been converted into boutique lodges. The masseria that we visit still produces organic extra virgin olive oil from trees that are many centuries old.

This land has been worked for thousands of years - we are shown the remnants of the ancient Roman agricultural production here, along with items from habitation from the middle ages through until modern times.

In the evening we have a special experience, taking a cooking lesson from a local chef. Since you’ve been with us for a week, now you will all be Puglia food experts. The focus will be on cooking typical Puglia dishes, first taking you through the types of ingredients used and their provenance. The cuisine of Puglia is based on the produce at a very local level, so is different to the food from other Italian regions. Seasonal vegetables, as well as focaccia and other breads, dominate this cuisine. All these are based on the abundant fresh ingredients as well as the ever-present extra virgin olive oil - a simple and effective cuisine. Recipes have been handed down through the generations and are truly expressive of the Mediterranean diet. The purity of flavour expressed in this cuisine is gaining it a reputation internationally, such that you’ll now find Pugliese dishes in top international restaurants.

The session is hands on and we are all involved in making a series of dishes, and we finish off the session by dining on the meal we’ve prepared.

Meals: Breakfast, Dinner (4 courses including wine)
Day 7 – Arrivederci Puglia

Today is our last day in Puglia, we organise transport for you to your departure point in Bari and bid you “buon viaggio”.

The tour finishes in Bari at 11 a.m.

"I... only have praise and good things to say about how wonderful it was. The places that we visited were fascinating and very unique, and the food and wine was delectable. I didn't know what to expect of the trip, but it more than fulfilled any hopes that I had for a great week. Everything was well organised and the atmosphere was friendly and relaxed. I can thoroughly recommend the tour.”
